FINISH CARPENTRY

Trim, casings and custom built-ins showcase a home's finer details and create striking lines along floors, walls, doors and windows. Layers of mouldings can sculpt profiles that suggest classical architectural styles. Our approach to all carpentry projects focuses on design, precision cuts and an understanding of different wood's characteristics. Knowing the right proportions and layout for mouldings and different carpentry features is often the job of an interior designer or architect. With our understanding of design and architectural styles and trends, we can confidently plan as well as execute these details. Carpentry is a trade of methodical problem solving. Homes are not perfectly square, level or plumb. We at Perfect Edge

Finishcrafters take flaws that are characteristic of all buildings and create the illusion that everything is perfectly aligned. Wood flexes and moves throughout the seasons, and houses tend to settle slightly. Our installation technique addresses the inherent movement of buildings and wood trim. We use a proactive approach when installing trim to minimize blemishes that may appear overtime by using step casing.

Perfect Edge Finishcrafters understands that the level of detail featured in a home's finish carpentry largely reflects the overall value of the home. From the first design, to the final coat of paint or lacquer we will create the perfect fit for your home.
